

Archived Content

Information identified as archived on the Web is for reference, research or recordkeeping purposes. It has not been altered or updated after the date of archiving. Web pages that are archived on the Web are not subject to the Government of Canada Web Standards. As per the Communications Policy of the Government of Canada, you can request alternate formats by contacting us.

Contenu archivé

L'information archivée sur le Web est disponible à des fins de consultation, de recherche ou de tenue de dossiers seulement. Elle n'a été ni modifiée ni mise à jour depuis sa date d'archivage. Les pages archivées sur le Web ne sont pas assujetties aux normes Web du gouvernement du Canada. Conformément à la Politique de communication du gouvernement du Canada, vous pouvez obtenir cette information dans un format de rechange en communiquant avec nous.

To whom it may concern,

I just want to let you know that I am absolutely disgusted that the Government of Canada is actually contemplating signing onto the Anti-Counterfeiting Trade Agreement (ACTA). ACTA would strip away several key civil liberties Canadians currently enjoy (online free speech for example) and Canada should have no part in it whatsoever. Over the summer thousands of Canadians told the Conservative Government what they wanted to see in future copyright legislation in Canada, yet ACTA flies in the faces of what the majority of Canadians have said about this issue. Canada has a chance to stand up and show the rest of the world what copyright law should look like in this day and age. It is my sincerest hope that Canada walks away from ACTA and does not sign this abominable "agreement".

Ben Dower
Toronto, ON